Sir:

Applicants provide the following response to the Office Communication dated July 2, 2001. A petition to extend the time for response for one month, from August 2, 2001 to September 2, 2001, is transmitted herewith.

REMARKS

The invention

In one aspect, the present application provides, for the first time, identification of a family of calcium-activated potassium channels. This family is called the "SK" family, for small conductance potassium channels and comprises three members called SK1, SK2, and SK3. This family of channels is highly conserved (about 80-90% identity) over a core sequence of approximately 300 amino acids. Furthermore, this family of channels share
